

A QUICK GUIDE TO TAX FORM 1095

What is the Form 1095?

It was a new tax form introduced in 2016 that acts as a record of your health insurance coverage during the tax year.

Why do I need it?

Under the Affordable Care Act, most of us are required to have health insurance or pay a penalty. The Form 1095 is your evidence that you have health coverage that meets the federal government's requirements.

When will I get it?

Form 1095-C will be mailed to your home address in late February.

What do I need to do with it?

The IRS does not require you to have your 1095C in order to complete your individual income tax return. The IRS just recommends that you keep the 1095C for your records.

Who will get a Form 1095-C?

All current and past employees who were eligible for medical benefits at any time during 2017 will receive a Form 1095-C. The form also lists any dependents you had on the YourChoice Health Plan during 2017.

What if I had coverage from someone else in 2017?

If you had coverage with someone other than us in 2017, you should receive a Form 1095 from them as well. The type of Form 1095 may vary, but either your employer or your carrier (or both) are required to mail a form to you.
